

Notice of Violation of Academy Publisher Publication Principles

“The Use and Reasons of Vocabulary Learning Strategies Use by Persian EFL Learners”

by

Shima Kameli

Department of Language and Humanities, Faculty of Educational Studies, Universiti Putra Malaysia, Serdang, Malaysia

and

Ghazali Bin Mostapha

Department of Language and Humanities, Faculty of Educational Studies, Universiti Putra Malaysia, Serdang, Malaysia

Journal of Language Teaching and Research

Volume 3, Number 4, July 2012, Page(s): 618-624

After careful and considered review of the content and authorship of this paper by a duly constituted expert committee, the above paper has been found to be in violation of Academy Publisher's Publication Principles.

The first author (Shima Kameli) has taken full responsibility and this violation was done without the knowledge of the second author (Ghazali Bin Mostapha). This paper contains significant portions of original text from the papers cited below. The original text was copied without attribution (including appropriate references to the original authors and/or paper title) and without permission.

Due to the nature of this violation, reasonable effort should be made to remove all past references to this paper, and future references should be made to the following articles:

[1] Salah Alyami. (2011). Vocabulary Learning Strategies of Saudi EFL Majors of Different Gender, Year and Proficiency: Use and Reasons for Use. PhD thesis. University of Essex, UK.

[2] Marin-Marin, A. (2005). Extraversion and the Use of Vocabulary Learning Strategies among University EFL Students in Mexico. Unpublished PhD Thesis. University of Essex. UK. Available at <http://www.sx.ac.uk/linguistics/publications/theses/PDFs/2000-2009/2005/Marin.pdf>